Knowing Yourself, Your Child, and Your Options

Parenting in the new millennium is different from anything in the past. The challenges of an unsafe world, over-booked parents, and over-connected kids send parents searching for answers. Everything from free-range to helicopter parenting is offered by others as "The Answer." But what about honest parenting that isn't trendy, that works with your faith, and that will always work for you and your children? Presenters Pastor John and Rebecca Duerr have been parenting and teaching parenting for 30 years.

Any parent or grandparent looking for a solid parenting foundation for any age child is invited to attend! Both parents of each child are encouraged to attend both sessions, however if that is not possible, one parent can attend one session, and the other can attend the following. Childcare is not provided.
